Abigail (Abby) Griffith is an associate in Reichman Jorgensen Lehman & Feldberg's Austin office. Abby's practice focuses on a range of complex commercial litigation for her clients, including breach of contract, fraud, real estate, medical malpractice, and administrative procedure matters.

A graduate of Baylor University School of Law, she received her M.A. from George Washington University, and her B.A. from Boston University. Abby served as a legal intern to Judge Bert Richardson of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, as well as Judge Lee Yeakel of the U. S. District Court for the Western District of Texas, where she drafted memoranda, court orders, and performed discretionary review of pending writs and petitions.

In addition to her practice, Abby devotes pro bono services to her community by representing tenants in eviction suits through Volunteer Legal Services of Central Texas. She is a member the Austin Bar Association and the Austin Young Lawyer's Association.
